Reports

DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT

Thirty-two Methodist Episcopal ministers have labored in the District this year, though there are only twenty-six charges.

This somewhat startling statement arises from the fact that some of our preachers are extra-itinerant.

To be particular, Bishop Hamilton appointed the Rev. C. E. Kethcham to Hastings, where he remained till the 22d of last March, when he sought and obtained a transfer to the Indiana Conference. I asked the Rev. S. A. Wanless, our Conference Evangelist, to supply the place for one quarter, and in the meantime, I was in correspondence with the Rev. W. T. Evans, of Welden, Illinois. Brother Evans was transferred to our Conference, and arrived at Hastings in the latter part of September.

Naturally, he found a scattered people and no little discouragement. But in the name of the Lord, and with the help of his consecrated family, he began to preach and plan and visit and say good things about the country and refrain from boasting either privately or in the pulpit about the glorious climate he left in Illinois, and so he has wrought a great change, and Hastings is off the rocks.

The Rev. John J. Carson left his work at Eau Gallie in June, and as I am informed, was transferred to the Wisconsin Conference.

His charge here was left in a state of much discouragement. Several of the friends of the Church thought that the work ought to be abandoned.

Providentially, I secured the consent of the Rev. W. H. Burley to undertake the task of reviving our dying cause of the Circuit, and the head of the Church has honored the labors of himself and his gifted wife in a marked way. Brother Burley is a member of the New Jersey Conference.

Winter Park has very little outlook for success. The Rev. Dudley Matthews, a member of the Cincinnati Conference, preached there a part of the year, but for some months past it has been under the care of the Rev. J. B. Santee, Pastor of our new work in the neighboring town of Taft.

The year was not yet two months old when the Rev. Ephram Sedweek left Daytona, transferred to the Southern California Conference. In his place came Rev. D. H. Rutter, heartily welcomed. Brother Rutter's work at Daytona has been crowned with blessing. The people love him and second every effort he makes for the upbuilding of Zion. A large addition to the church building has been erected, costing $3,500, nearly $2,000 of this amount has already been paid and the balance can probably be secured at the re-opening of the church.

Early in May our pastor at Mt. Dora and his wife sustained a dreadful loss: Their only child, James Cook, died suddenly. The shock to both of them, and to the mother especially, was so severe, that they felt that they could not remain on the field of their disaster. Brother Porter had expected to go away to school later in the year, but the loss of the child hastened his departure. So he was transferred to the Holston Conference, and the Rev. J. S. Grahl was transferred to us and stationed at Mt. Dora. Brother Grahl is the kind of man that we are glad to welcome. His work at Mt. Dora is of a high order.

One more mid-year change must be noted, namely the one that occurred at St. Petersburg. Rev. Addyman Smith secured a transfer to the Cincinnati Conference and the Rev. S. A. Keen came from Ohio and took his place. St. Petersburg is one of our most promising charges, and it was a delight to all of us when Brother Keen came and took charge of it in such a masterful way.

As a rule, mid-year changes are very hard upon our Church work. The pastor who is planning to go can seldom plan for anything else. Valuable weeks are cut out of the year and when the new pastor comes he sometimes finds a condition of things too discouraging to detail, and some of the best months of the year are wasted. What a pity that our pastors find it so difficult to stay where they are stationed for the entire length of one little year.

Turning from this unpromising subject, it is worthy of note that we have no lack of good men for our work in this Conference, and many others are asking to come, pledging themselves to stay and make this their permanent field of labor.

At the beginning of the year a new charge was organized on the East Coast, called the Coronado Circuit, and Rev. C. W. Lane became its pastor. He and his wife have done admirably, and the Coronado part of it is a success. But for several reasons, which I can not detail here, it looks as if Coronado and New Smyrna ought to be put together again, as they seem to need each other and to belong to each other.

On the 9th of last May I went to the new town of Celcry City, preached in the dining room of the hotel, and organized a Methodist Episcopal Church of about thirty members. I supplied them with preaching as often as I could, but on account of some land title difficulties, many of our people have gone away.

From the time I first visited the lower East Coast, I have felt that we are to have a great future in that part of the peninsula. From Ft. Pierce to Miami there are forty-one towns in a distance of one hundred and twenty-four miles. That is, for a continuous stretch of a hundred and twenty-four miles there is one town for every three miles. They are not all new towns, but most of them seem to be growing, and Methodist Episcopal people are coming to them in large numbers. Between Melbourne and Knights Key, a distance of two hundred and eighty-four miles, we have but one Church building.

So, encouraged by the Livingstone Trustees and advised by Dr. L. S. Rader, I began early to plan for work in that part of the State. I appointed the Rev. J. A. Kahl to be pastor of a Circuit that literally extends "from the river even to the ends of the earth." He rides a motor cycle, and the exact number of places in which he has preached the gospel will probably be lost to Church history, but he has found especial encouragement at Detroit and Alapatah and Ft. Lauderdale. I have traveled and preached and organized in this great territory, and I believe in its future more and more every time I visit it.

I wish to emphasize the fact that we could not have entered this great field at all but for the encouragement given to us by the Livingstone Trustees.

I have already mentioned our new work at Taft. The Rev. J. B. Santee, a member of the New Jersey Conference, has been preaching there most of the year. Under his good leadership a parsonage has been built, the lower part of which is used for Church services and Sunday School. If Taft grows, as many people think it will, we shall have a good Church in that town, but for the present it should be attached to a Circuit.

I first visited Davenport on the 20th of October, invited by the Rev. C. W. Jordan, who had lately come there with his family from Kansas. I preached to a large congregation in the school house, organized a Methodist Episcopal church of about thirty members and appointed Brother Jordan to be pastor. I believe that there is much promise for us in this growing community.

I am watching several places where I think we are called to preach the gospel.

Most of our established Churches have moved steadily on with a good degree of prosperity. I shall briefly report the condition of those not already mentioned.

Snyder Memorial is centrally located in the most important city in the State. Surely, if we are needed anywhere, we are needed in Jacksonville—the gateway to Florida. And Snyder Memorial occupies a large place. Its pastor, the Rev. Dr. Jesse Bowman Young, stands at the head of the scholarly men of the city, and is authority in matters literary and theological. This year a large Methodist Brotherhood has been organized that has put new life into the Sunday School and into other departments of Church work as well. Dr. Young has been one of the foremost leaders in the Men and Religion Forward Movement that has been actively pushed in the city this year.

The Rev. J. A. Bretz has zealously prosecuted our work at Fairfield and New Springfield the entire year without a vacation. Under his persistent supervision, New Springfield Church and Sunday School are growing, and Fairfield has come to be so prosperous that the Livingstone Trustees expect to build a beautiful church there in the near future.

Grace Church in South Jacksonville was probably never so full of cheer as it is now. The Rev. J. J. Treadwell has had a happy year. He has preached and worked in the Sunday School with the Superintendent, Brother W. W. Swaim, and has talked religion from house to house.

At Daytona Beach our pastor, H. H. Bowen, has succeeded in an encouraging way, though in the face of disaster, that had come to that charge before he was appointed to it.

The Church has been rebuilt this year at an expense of $3,780. Of this, $2,176 has been raised. At the reopening we hope that the balance may be secured. The Sunday School is one of the best on the East Coast. It maintained a tourist class even in the summer time.

Dr. W. J. Harkness is the pastor who gets acquainted. He has been at DeLand so long that everybody knows him, and everybody whose tastes are at all normal, loves him. His genial treatment of the students at the Stetson University makes him valuable to that institution, and his scholarly sermons are a delight and a blessing to his congregation. He planned for the entertainment of the Jacksonville District Ministerial Convention which met in DeLand in October, and was attended by sixteen of our pastors, and a number of Epworth League workers from other charges. It was a profitable occasion, and our preachers will not soon forget the hospitality of the DeLand Church.

The pastor held revival meetings for two weeks in December which resulted in some conversions and a quickening of the membership. The Rev. J. H. Elder, of Eustis, and the District Superintendent both aided in this evangelistic effort.

Our people at Eustis have enjoyed a beautiful year. They are so fearful that some other charge will hear of their Pastor, J. H. Elder, and lay plans to secure him that they have sent the Bishop a petition for his return so numerous signed that there can be no doubt about its being unanimous.

This Pastor has seen souls saved, Sunday School and League prosper, and all the interests of the Church built up.

Lake Como Circuit has four appointments. When our Church first went into that part of the State, all the material eggs were in one basket, and they were all oranges. In other words nothing was planned for but oranges. So the Como Church was built among orange groves and the same may be said of the Nassau Church and of the Welaka Church, and several other Churches in different places. When the orange trees were frozen to the ground in 1895, the people had nothing left, so they abandoned the country and left some of our Churches with little or no membership. It should be understood that old time Episcopal Methodism in Florida was built on the prospect of perpetual success with oranges, and the freezing of the orange trees accounts for the fact that we have some abandoned Churches and others that are very weak. Our later efforts to establish our Church have been made where there is hope of a variety of crops, and so, in this sense, we are taking a new start, with reasonable expectation of greater permanency.

In the Como Circuit the splendid orange groves that induced our fathers to build the Churches perished in some cases utterly, and thus our cause is but slenderly supported. Our pastor, Rev. J. B. Crippen, did not know what else to do, so he began to hold revival meetings at the different places on his work, and the results were blessed. He secured for one of the meetings the services of our Conference evangelist, Rev. S. A. Wanless, and whatever he could do for the scattered people in the way of urging them to accept the great salvation, he has faithfully done.

Lawtey, in the midst of five hundred acres of strawberries, has had financial prosperity unparalleled this year. Our Church has shared in that, but it has done much more. Pastor Antle was expecting an evangelist to help him in a meeting. The evangelist could not come, so he waited on his face before God for direction, and power, and held the meeting himself. It was one of the most powerful revival meetings witnessed in Florida in recent years.

Aided by the Livingston Trustees, he has built a Church at Saxon, two and a half miles south of Lawtey, where he has organized a class. When the building is completed it will cost $1,000. The Livingston Trustees have already donated $200 and to date the people have raised $400.

Miami is a city that believes in itself. They talk there as if they expect that Miami will speedily be the metropolis of the earth. And truly it is a stirring, hustling, shell-cracking town, even though its climate is semi-tropical. Here we have a strong membership and valuable Church property almost in the midst of the business section. Dr. Rader has led in a plan to secure lots for a new Church in a fine location, with the expectation of selling our present site for a great sum and building a better Church on cheaper ground. Our Sunday School is very prosperous and Dr. Rader has preached to fine congregations all the year.

New Smyrna is rapidly becoming one of the most important towns on the Florida East Coast Railway. We have good property there, including a beautifully furnished parsonage.

Our pastor, Rev. W. L. Barze, has faithfully done what he could in spite of some discouragement. All the interests of our Church have been promoted by him to the best of his ability, and he has seen some good accomplished.

Okahumpka and Fruitland Park Circuit is another old orange grove charge that has not been able to hold its own. Pastor E. D. Compton has preached at both places, and at Fruitland Park he has found no little encouragement.

We have all been full of sympathy for our brother in affliction, the Rev. J. A. Ewing, pastor at Orange City. Though so sadly stricken by ill health, he has preached most of the year, and his beautiful Christian life is preaching constantly to all who know him.

We have a great Church at St. Augustine. It can be described so well in no other way. Rev. J. H. Martin has been there for eight years, and he is more wanted now than he ever was before. His report will show a great Sunday School, a great League and a great constituency. This year the Church has raised $4,000.

Bellevue Circuit is a large charge that has been made the most of by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Wenrich. At the Ocklawaha appointment we ought to build a Church in the very near future.

St. Cloud Church, built by the Livingstone Trustees, cost $10,300. A beautiful parsonage has also been erected and the pastor, Rev. J. B. Westcott has had the year of his pastorate. Bishop Warren is expected at St. Cloud February 11th when the Church will be dedicated.

Some of the best people on earth belong to our Church at Tarpon Springs. With a united, consecrated membership, Pastor Northrup has concluded a year of usefulness. Evangelist Wanless assisted him in a good revival meeting. The year closed with the reception of several new members into the Church.

I recommend that this Conference appoint a committee to find out the exact status of our Church property at Tampa.

Benevolent collections in a small Conference like this are always difficult, and it has been especially so with us this year. The citrus fruit crop was very small, the severe drought of last summer spoiled many agricultural hopes, and many Methodist newcomers to Florida are here to try to get a start in the world and have very little ready money.

I have, however, urged systematic giving, and I have inquired about our benevolences in every charge. The pastors also, have been diligent in the matter, and if our report is not all that we hoped it would be, at least the consciousness is ours that we have done what we could, and some of the pastors out of their poverty have contributed money for our benevolent enterprises and have urged others to do so when they know that their small salaries would not be paid in full.

Some of the wealthier Methodists in Florida contribute largely to independent mission work. It is believed that two of our members have given more than $100,000 to independent missions, and the aggregate sum contributed by our people in Florida to this kind of work is vastly larger. And while all this is commendable, the St. John's River Conference falls far short of getting credit for it.

At the beginning of the year Bishop Hamilton dedicated the Boylan Home in the city of Jacksonville. Our Woman's Home Missionary Society built this beautiful structure at a cost of $30,000.

Cookman Institute, another one of our Church schools located in Jacksonville, is doing good service.

I more and more believe in the mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Florida, and I think that one of the first qualifications for success is that we believe that God has business for us here, and every one of us ought to proceed upon the strength of that conviction. Multitudes of our people spend the winter here. They need us. It is true that their Church membership is elsewhere. Their names do not appear in our minutes, and our minutes look meager in consequence, but the Church at large ought to recognize the fact that we are preaching to hundreds of Methodist Episcopal people a part of the year for which the Church records do not give us credit. Then our kind of folks are constantly coming here in great numbers to make homes. We must give them a Church home also.

I have traveled on this District in the past year 13,860 miles. I have been everywhere treated with uniform kindness by our pastors, for which I record my gratitude.

Since we met at St. Petersburg, I have preached and lectured one hundred and sixty-eight times, which has been a small matter as compared with my unceasing solicitude for the Churches.

I humbly hope that my vision of the Christ is more distinct than ever before, and I have a steadfast conviction that the Head of the Church will use us in this Southland if we faithfully preach His Gospel.

"Draw near, O Son of God, draw near;
Us with thy flaming eye behold;
Still in thy Church do thou appear,
And let our candle stick be gold."

R. A. CARNINE.

EVANGELISM

Evangelism has made the Methodist Church very aggressive and progressive in the past. Evangelism has built Methodism. Our future spiritual life and success depends upon our evangelistic efforts. Realizing this we recommend that we, as pastors, do our best to kindle the revival spirit in our Churches.

We urge that all our pastors lend a helping hand to the Men's Religious Movement, which is now in progress.

We urge that every charge make a revival effort this Conference year, and that we, as pastors, assist each other all we can in the great work of Evangelism in our Conference.

EDUCATION

We are grateful for the increased facilities afforded to the rising generation for securing a liberal education—for the enterprise and civic pride and technical skill and wise patriotism which are embodied in our educational enterprises. We note with admiration and appreciation the efforts which the commonwealth of Florida is making to elevate the standard of our common schools and our State institutions, and for the promise now being registered, or at least forecast, that due care shall in the not distant future be exercised toward the neglected, the friendless, the imbecile, the crippled and defective children of the commonwealth, and for the facilities afforded for the uplift of the colored children of Florida. Toward these associated features of our State life we pledge our hearty co-operation and our prayers.

We are also glad that through the Southern Colleges, of our sister Methodism; through that great institution, Stetson University, through Rollins College, under Congregational auspices, and through such institutions for the colored people as Cookman Institute, Boylan Industrial School, Edward Waters College, and other similar schools, opportunity for training is opened up, year by year, to an increasing number of young people of all ages, colors and grades in Florida. Surely those who are born and reared in our time are blessed in this respect indeed.

We rejoice that our own Church has been foremost in this country in caring for the needs of her children and youth in regard to this phase of their lives. Hence we urge those who are getting ready for the ministry to go to school, to seek for intellectual training, to take advantage of the facilities afforded by our schools of theology and our colleges, and thus to prepare at the start to make full proof of their ministry.

We call special attention to the University of Chattanooga as closely allied to the needs of our own territory. May God bless our teachers in all these schools, and the great army of pupils in the United States, that they may through their training become useful and devoted men and women

EPWORTH LEAGUE

We appreciate the presence of Dr. Edwin M. Randall, our General Secretary, at this session of Conference and have enjoyed his helpful addresses. We are glad the Central Office has reached self-support and the League now has missionary representatives in India and Mexico and hopes soon to enter other fields.

We recognize in the Epworth League a training school for the Church of the future and a mighty agency for the salvation of young lives.

We pledge our efforts toward securing Epworth Leagues in all our churches and of directing our young people in their amusements, and helping them to build lives of spirituality and right living.

We appreciate the Epworth Herald, which is an excellent paper, improving all the time.

LUTHER S. RADER.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

China alone might well give us a text for many sermons and appeals looking toward the growth of the foreign missionary enterprise in the current decade. The new president of the Republic of China is a Christian convert, and the son of a Christian convert; he is a type of what the Gospel has done and is doing for the Orient; and is the leading representative of the mightiest resolution—social, commercial, reformatory, political, educational and religious, the world has ever seen, in any age, involving the renovation of four hundred millions of human beings. Let those who are blind to the signs of the times and who have hitherto turned a deaf ear to the proclamation of the Gospel for the wide world, simply give one half hour to China and her advance as shown in two years, and they must as reasonable beings cry out—"At last God has led me out of the darkness. Now I believe in Foreign Missions." We are glad because of what the women are doing at home and abroad; we rejoice in the open doors all over the globe, in the Mission study classes, in the sight of thousands of young people ready to be summoned for service into the darkness of paganism, at the reports coming on every breeze from all lands where multiplied thousands of Christian missionaries and native workers are at their tasks, at the advance made by medical missionaries, at the steps taken to open up the Dark Continent, and at the growth of our own enterprises in many lands. May God help us to keep alert, to make ourselves fully informed, to give, and pray, and preach, and plead in behalf of this vast enterprise, which means the saving of the whole world.

FREEDMAN'S AID

The large needs of the people to whom the Freedmen's Aid Society ministers and the gratifying results obtained, move us to express our appreciation for the efforts put forth, and urge that we do not lessen our interest in this great Society and the beneficent work it is doing.

J. S. GRAHL.
G. W. BUTLER.

HOME MISSION AND CHURCH EXTENSION

We again record devout gratitude to Almighty God, that we have in our Church such an efficient agency as the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension; for what it has done and for what it is doing especially for our work in this State.

Let us, therefore, this year, as never before, heartily and intelligently co-operate with this Board by means of the methods which its managers submit to us and not consign to the waste basket the appeals which they from time to time mail us.

Let us see to it that by means of the voice in public and private appeal, and the pen in correspondence, we lay the claims of the Board with informational and inspirational effect on the hearts, not only of all whose names appear on our Church Records, but of all who make up our congregations.

PERIODICALS

What we greatly need is a revival of interest in our denominational papers. The problem now before the Book Committee, our editors and publishing agents, is how to increase the circulation of our papers so as to put one copy each week into every family in the Church. The pastors hold the place of vantage in connection with the needs of the hour. They have it within their power to enlarge the circulation of our papers inside of one week of faithful canvassing so that thousands of subscribers may be added to the list. Surely that man who assumes to be worthy of the place of office bearer in our denomination and remains unprovided with an Advocate, costing from two cents to five cents per week, needs to be admonished, awakened, and brought into the light. A revival which would accomplish the task thus suggested, would serve every interest in the Church, it would bring a weekly visitation of an evangelist into every home, it would spread light, and quicken zeal, and instruct childhood, and disseminate the leaven of the Gospel everywhere. We commend as the best papers we know anything about the Christian Advocate, of New York, the great family of Advocates—The Pittsburg, the Western, the Northwestern, the Central, Zion's Herald, and the Epworth Herald—magnificently edited, of beautiful typographical finish, sparkling with enterprise—and we do not forget in this enumeration that paper which geographically is so vitally bound to our territory, the Advocate Journal of Athens, Tenn. Vital interests, whose importance cannot be estimated, interests which take hold on time and eternity—are involved in the duty of increasing the circulation of these papers. Let us do our best this year to fulfill this high obligation.

Our Methodist Review, edited by Dr. Kelly, one of our great scholars and writers, stands at the top in its own field. Let us see to it that every preacher and our more intelligent laymen take this great review.

RESOLUTIONS

We record hereby our sincere gratitude for the privileges and fellowships of this Conference. We have been most delightfully cared for by Rev. J. J. Treadwell, and his congregation of Grace Church, South Jacksonville; and to him and his wife, and to those who have so cordially co-operated with them, we say, Thank you, and may God bless you!

We have been edified and helped by those who have come to us with messages of instruction and love, Brother S. H. Thompson, burdened with his efforts to make our special paper a great success; Dr. E. M. Randall, whose words have thrilled us in view of his vast and fruitful field in the Epworth League. Dr. A. G. Kynett, representing an enterprise which is vital to our Conference, the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension; Dr. E. C. Clemans, typifying in his addresses and appeals one of our noblest forms of beneficence, that which proposes to give in due time a comfortable support to our superannuates; Mrs. Bass and Mrs. Ziegler, speaking to us in fullness of knowledge and with zealous hearts concerning Woman's Work at home and abroad; Rev. F. F. Fitch, Secretary of the Florida Sunday School Association, and Mrs. Cochley, an expert in that work; and Rev. O. T. Usleman, bearing the toils and helping to make the plans by which through the Anti-Saloon League, Florida by and by shall be redeemed from the curse of the liquor habit and traffic—to these all we say, "Though we may forget the singer, we shall not forget the song!"

We recognize the occasion of the boat ride on the river as giving us a charming outing, and an inspiring vision of the great city's river front, in due time to be crowded with ships and commerce from all lands. May Jacksonville, enterprising, aggressive, growthful, full of promise and of unlimited possibilities, be also numbered very soon as a center of unwonted religious activity—one of the great cities of the great King!

We thank the Pastor and Trustees of Snyder Memorial Church for their co-operation in serving the interests of the Conference. We thank the enterprising dailies of this city, The Times Union and the Metropolis for their courtesy, for the ample space which they have given to our proceedings, and for the very full and correct reports they have afforded the reading public in this respect.

We put on record our sense of obligation to our corps of officers, secretary, statistician and treasurer, and assistants for the work they have so faithfully done.

And now what can we say in registering our appreciation and gratitude in view of the services which Bishop Warren has rendered? His generosity in donating his great lecture on "The Forces of a Sunbeam" which impressed not only the great audience which heard it, but through the press many thousands of others, his prayers for our work and for us, his wise advice, his penetrating interest in our field, his courtesy to the old men, his consideration for the young man, his careful administration, his example of benignant and majestic leadership, making us grateful whenever our eyes fell upon him that God had given Methodism such a leader—all these phases of his stay with us and of our relationship to him demand a more adequate record than we can easily command. May God, who has made him such a power, who has helped him in so many magnificent educational and missionary enterprises, who has made him a messenger to so many countless thousands, still be with him in the years that are to come, steadying his feet in the declivities of life, keeping hold of his hand at last in the valley of shadows, and giving him at the very end the reward which is due to those who come off more than conqueror!

SABBATH OBSERVANCE

We recognize the Christian Sabbath not only as a foundation wall of the Church, but also as an indispensable ally of our domestic welfare, our economic safety, our governmental stability, our physical well-being, our industrial integrity, our social security, our moral honor, in short as a mighty and essential bulwark of our whole civilization. We deplore the profane commercialism that exploits the Sabbath for gain, the puerile pleasure-seeking that secularize it in folly, the shameful selfishness that deprives others of its privileges, the blameworthy carelessness that forgets its high claims and sacred ministry. We call upon our people to renew their vigilance in observing the Sabbath and in fighting to establish it in its rightful position within our Churches, homes, cities, States and nation.

STATE OF CHURCH

Our Lord did not value human souls in material things, neither may we, but, with a holy zeal, we thank God for the advance during the past year along these lines, and pledge ourselves to continued faithfulness.

We appreciate the advance movements of Methodism in an effort to solve and promote the great social problems of the day and join heartily in this work. But whereas the ultimate endeavor is to be the Salvation of men we rejoice exceedingly at the great number saved through the Church at large and especially in our own Conference, and urge upon the brethren the exercise of the most diligent endeavor to make possible the fulfillment of our Lord's prayer "Thy Kingdom Come," and that our pre-eminent aim be the conversion of men.

JAS. S. GRAHL.
D. H. RUTTER.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Religious education, as conducted by our Sunday Schools, is the most alert and progressive factor in our modern Church life. No community can prosper morally and religiously without a strong Sunday School movement. We would emphasize the high value of such features as the class organization, the home department, the men's classes, the graded lesson system, the eradle roll, decision day, monthly missionary day and the Sunday School Institute. We are glad for the efficiency of our own Board of Sunday Schools, and the superior quality of our own Sunday School publications. We commend the work of the International Sunday School Association in our own State under the magnetic leadership of the Rev. F. F. Fitch of our own Church.

S. A. KEEN.
J. H. ELDER.

TEMPERANCE

Realizing the awful ravages of the drink evil on humanity and the determined efforts of the liquor interests to keep the saloon in our country by fair means or foul, mostly the latter; we declare ourselves the uncompromising enemies of the liquor traffic.

We urge every pastor to be a leader in any movement which opposes this traffic and to use every means in his power to increase temperance sentiment.

We reaffirm our confidence in the Anti-Saloon League and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and urge our people to support them.

We recommend that the Rev. R. A. Carnine, D.D., and the Rev. J. H. Martin be appointed members of the State Board of Trustees of the Florida Anti-Saloon League.

JAMES B. CRIPPEN.
J. H. MARTIN.

WOMAN'S WORK

Our women bear such an unique and inalienable relation to so much of the work of our Church that we must, in fairness, concede to them a very large and important place in the ranks of our workers. We gratefully express our appreciation of the amount and quality of work done by our devoted women along financial, social, literary and moral and spiritual lines. In most of our Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues the women are important factors; some of the best and most useful members of some of our Official Boards are women; the Ladies' Aid Societies are almost indispensable; and the Women's Missionary Societies, home and foreign, not infrequently do much of the benevolent work of our Churches. Directly or indirectly, also, much of the work of the men in our Churches is inspired and stimulated by the interest and enthusiasm of our women. In the local Church, in the annual and general Conferences, at home and abroad, our women do their full share—and are ready to do more. All of which we heartily commend, and for it all we fervently give thanks.

God bless the women who labor with us in the Gospel.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

We believe the Bible to be the word of God. As such it should be opened to every man in his own language. Millions of souls are coming from foreign lands to live in this country—We urge that a copy of the Holy Scriptures be put into the hands of every person coming.

We believe that the Bible needs no apology, nor elimination of any part thereof, and that an honest introduction anywhere and everywhere will vindicate God's estimate of His own Book.

We pledge our earnest support to the American Bible Society, which is an inestimable force in the work of the world's evangelization. It has done great things with the money at hand, but it needs a better support from the Church, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we urge our people to a more liberal support of the American Bible Society:

That, we recommend a more general use of the Bible in the Home, Church and Sunday School; That we read God's book every day.

In Memoriam

REV. J. C. SULLIVAN

The Rev. J. C. Sullivan was born in Orange county, New York, August 18, 1827, and died in St. Petersburg, Florida, March 3, 1911, aged 83 years and 6 months.

Early in life he became a Christian and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and for fifty-seven years was in its active ministry. He was first a member of the Erie Conference and afterwards of East Ohio. In 1891 he transferred to the St. John's River Conference and successfully served the following charges: Orange City, Georgiana, New Smyrna, St. Petersburg, Winter Park, Belleview and Candler, Okahumpkée and Fruitland Park.

Bro. Sullivan had a kind and lovable disposition. He commended himself to all who knew him as a true minister of Jesus Christ. The gospel he preached had no uncertain sound and in all his pastorates there arise those who call him blessed. His appearance in the pulpit was commanding. He had an attractive personality, tall, erect, massive in form and magnetic in his delivery. But it was in prayer that he seemed to open the very gates of Heaven and walk into the presence of God.

He took a superannuated relation in 1908 and went to live at Barnesville, Ohio. Being in poor health, he returned to St. Petersburg on the 21st day of February, expecting to get a new lease on life and spend a few more years in the city, where fourteen years previously he had been pastor. He was seized with acute sickness the day after his arrival, a physician and trained nurse were secured. Nothing that human agency could do was left undone. But Bright's disease had taken firm hold. His sufferings were severe, but he was patient, and to his dear wife and friends gave cheerful testimony that all was well and God's way the best. To him death had no terrors, and when the summons came, he was willing and ready to step

"Beyond the noise and smoke of this dim spot,
Which men call earth, into the palace of eternity."

He was twice married; the first wife died in 1874. To this union were born all his children. In 1883 he married the good wife who survives him. The surviving children are: J. J. Sullivan, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. W. W. Hanlon, Barnesville, Ohio; L. D. Sullivan, Brockton, New York; and Charles Sullivan, Pittsburg, Pa. Funeral services were conducted in the First M. E. Church, St. Petersburg, conducted by Rev. Addyman Smith, the pastor, assisted by Rev. J. A. Davies, and Rev. M. Moses, members of the East Ohio Conference. The body was shipped to Barnesville, Ohio, and interred in the Southern Cemetery.
